SUPERVISORS HELD A ROUTINE SESSION

MET LAST EVENING AND BEYOND
PASSING PAYROLLS DID LITTLE—TRYING TO CUT EXPENSES

The Board of Supervisors met last evening at their usual hour and took up the routine work of passing payrolls. The main topic of discussion during the evening was how to cut down the County expenses for it is said that the County is in a very bad financial hole.

Sheriff Brown was present by request and he stated that he would do all he could by cutting the force and saving $600 a month. Chief Thurston of the Fire Department said that he could not cut down any expenses in his department for he did not have any too much as it was and he could not save anything unless he cut down his force of men which would cripple the Department.

A. R. Gurley for the Board of Underwriters stated that it would be absurd to reduce the department for it meant placing the city in a state in which it could not defend itself. Although he did not state it, Mr. Gurley conveyed the impression that should the department suffer from a cut in funds the insurance rates would be increased as the risk would be greater.

Chief Engineer Thurston reported for his department for the month.

A letter from F. B. McStocker, the chairman on parks for the Civic Federation, called attention to the condition of the park surrounding the old fish market on Alakea street. The board decided that it was a Territorial matter and did not concern them.

Andrew Adams, who has been the Road Overseer for the District of Koolauloa resigned from his position. It was accepted.

Judge Whitney, in a letter, protested against the removal of Chang Chan, Chinese interpreter to make place for Joseph Goo Kim, clerk for County Attorney-elect Cathcart, as purely political. The board will investigate.

Sheriff Brown, Chief Thurston, Sam Johnson and W. L. Frazee all declared that they could not cut their expenses. Sheriff Brown later modified his statement and said he could save $600 provided he cut the force.

The band matter was discussed. The matter of their working for the county will be taken up at the first of the month. Cohen offered to report through a disinterested party and would turn over his accounts.

The usual pay rolls were passed.

WOULD HAVE ALL EXHIBIT CHICKS

POULTRY ASSOCIATION WISHES

TO HAVE A LARGE NUMBER OF ENTRIES IN THE SHOW.

The Hawaiian Poultry Association's exhibition committee hope to meet all breeders and owners of standard-bred poultry in these islands at its coming exhibition next month. Those who have exhibited before will, of course, be there again. But among the many owners of fine stock some there are, doubtless, who feel uncertain as to the merits of their stock, and may, for that reason, withhold their entry rather than place it without any expectation of winning.

To all such the committee would urge the fact that winning prizes at a poultry show is not the only object of exhibiting stock. The individual experiences of an exhibitor in attendance at the show benefit him in many ways that he would rarely encounter in working alone, or by the aid of books and papers only. He is likely to be set right in regard to many things which were either unknown or unfamiliar to him before, and he will learn to make a truer estimate of defects or excellences in his stock by mingling with other fanciers.

The result will aid him in mating his breeding pens next season; and when his young stock begins to mature he will be better qualified to select the best specimens, either to exhibit or to breed from, and to give them better attention in preparing them for the show room.

To see his own stock alongside a more successful competitor's exhibit will afford him an opportunity for comparison and study of correct appearance and condition that betters his chances of winning next time.

A novice exhibitor is apt to delay too long the choosing of his best birds and the separation of them from the general flock for special attention. It should not be left until the last few days preceding the show, but undertaken some weeks beforehand, so that their condition will be perfect when they reach the show room, and do him credit as a breeder.

BROWN GAIN WAS REDUCED TO ONLY ONE

COMPLETION OF CANVASS OF THE
FIRST PRECINCT GAVE BROWN
SMALL ADVANTAGE.

The canvass of the ballots of the first precinct of the fourth district in the Brown-Laueka recount petition proceedings, was concluded yesterday afternoon before the Supreme Court. The findings of the court cast out 5 Laueka and 4 Brown ballots. This gave Brown a gain of only 1 over his opponent whereas in his petition Brown had claimed that 16 votes had been counted for Laueka which should have been counted for the petitioner. The court took up the ballots that had been rejected conditionally, during the morning and afternoon sessions on account of some mutilations and tears and decided that they should be counted.

At the conclusion of the recount canvass yesterday Chief Justice Frank stated to Judge Gear of counsel for petitioner that the statute did not contemplate any mere fishing expedition on the part of a defeated candidate who had every thing to gain and nothing to lose. It must be shown to the satisfaction of the court that the petitioner had been given real information upon which he had based his petition and claims. The court stated that the charges were general and not specific.

In reply Gear stated that the information given Brown had been based upon the statements made by their watchers some of whom had made affidavits. It was decided that the petitioner should produce witnesses at the next session of court in order to satisfy the court that there had been some foundation for instituting the proceedings. The court adjourned to 10 o'clock this morning when the rehearing was resumed.

AHAHUI IOLANI.

Next Friday, November 26, being St. Andrew's Day, the Ahahui Iolani will hold its regular annual meeting and commemorate its third anniversary with a choral celebration of the Holy Communion in the Cathedral at 10 o'clock a. m., at which service the Rt. Rev. Bishop Restarick will take part.

Besides the Cathedral monument which bears the name of St. Andrew in memory of the day on which Kamehameha IV, through whose personal efforts and energy a branch of the Anglican Church was established in Hawaii, the day heretofore was allowed to pass by without any special commemoration in memory of the great and good king until the Ahahui Iolani was organized by Her Majesty Queen Liliuokalani on St. Andrew's Day, 1903; since which special services have been held and appropriate sermons preached.

Outside of the regular church festivals St. Andrew's Day should be especially kept by all Church members in Hawaii.

The regular business meeting of the Ahahui will be held in the afternoon at 2 o'clock in the Cathedral Sunday schoolroom, at which the annual reports will be read and new officers and standing committees for the year will be respectively elected and appointed.

All members of the Ahahui are expected to be present both at the services and at the meeting.

BIG KOA LOG WAGON.

The largest wagon ever built here was yesterday shipped by the Kinau to the Hawaiian Mahogany Co. It will carry a log from 7 to 8 feet in diameter, having a carrying capacity of about 5000 feet of lumber. It is the first of five needed by the company to transfer Koa logs from the forest to the mill. It can be hauled by mules or a traction engine. Two traction engines are on the way from the mainland for the purpose. The wagon tires are eight inches wide. The Schuman Carriage Co. are the builders.

WAS EFFICIENT OFFICIAL.

"It will be a pretty hard thing," said Governor Carter, "to get a man to fill Mr. Buckland's position here. He has been most indefatigable in his work and has been an excellent officer." The Governor stated that he had not decided upon any successor to Buckland and desired to receive applications and suggestions.

HABEAS CORPUS CASE UP.

The petition for a habeas corpus in the case of Blanche Merten came up before Judge De Bolt yesterday and was continued until November 29 at 2 a. m. The woman being released on her own recognizance.
